

What do we offer?

The ADHD Evaluation Service provide families with reliable, timely, and affordable ADHD assessments. In addition, children and adolescents will be screened for related disorders. The assessments are conducted entirely online.

What is the process?

1. Contact the RACER Lab (see contact info below)
2. Complete the consent form
3. Complete online parent and child report forms
4. Schedule and complete a clinical interview with one of our clinicians
5. You will receive an evaluation report electronically

UNIVERSITY OF LOUISVILLE

ADHD Evaluation Service

Thank you to WHAS Crusade for Children for their generosity in awarding the RACER Lab with a grant to expand our mission of providing affordable, timely ADHD screenings for families in the Louisville community!

About the ADHD Evaluation Service

The ADHD Evaluation Service is a joint venture of the RACER Lab for ADHD research and the Noble H. Kelley Psychological Services Center at U of L. It is dedicated to providing low-cost, accessible ADHD evaluations to all children in the Kentuckiana community regardless of insurance or ability to pay.

Can my child be evaluated?

- Yes! Any child between ages 6-17 can be evaluated
- No Insurance Needed
- Evaluations priced on an income-based sliding scale.
- Evaluations are extremely affordable. Most families will pay anywhere from $10-$90 (fees are higher for families with higher incomes, but are still very affordable).
- No referrals needed – you can contact us directly to begin your child's evaluation!
